ANM's mission statement is to encourage local young artists to pursue their dreams in music, by providing a quality platform of expression. This is the exact kind of competition that seeks out the best and brightest in songwriting, so apply today!

The entire event is run by volunteers who have made their mark in the music industry by moving up the ranks. Competitors will be judged on many qualities; song structure, lyrics, performance, and stage presence.

If you or a friend might be right for this competition, you should definitely fill out an application as soon as possible! Not only is the deadline fast approaching, but the prizes are worth it. These prizes include: a 12 hour recording session, a professional photo shoot, personal website design, artist press kit creation, and the opening spot for a major band at the ANM Gala in late September 2012.

Good luck to all the applicants!
